

$28.5 Million Expansion

(Beloit, WI) - Frito-Lay announced that it will invest $28.5 Million in various facility related mechanical and technology-intensive equipment to expand their manufacturing capacities. Frito-Lay's 131-acre, 550,000 SF campus manufactures and distributes six different products. This expansion project retains approximately 500 full-time positions and creates the opportunity to add roughly 25 new jobs, as well. To facilitate this project, the State of Wisconsin provided a $2 Million award.

In addition to this expansion news, Frito-Lay also announced their introduction into the State of Wisconsin's Green Tier program. Green Tier companies voluntarily commit to heightened environmental performance standards. During the last five years, Beloit's Frito-Lay Green Team has achieved impressive environmental milestones, including: a 99% landfill-free site, reduced natural gas emissions by 27%, decreased water consumption by 50% and an overall reduction in greenhouse gases by 17%. These achievements, as well as others, positions the Beloit Frito-Lay facility to be LEED certified by 2010.

According to James Otterstein, Rock County Economic Development Manager, "This project speaks volumes about the strategic supply chain connections that are linked to a Janesville-Beloit MSA location. The ability to utilize Wisconsin-based raw materials, coupled with a congestion free transportation network, enables Frito-Lay to service a seven state territory. This announcement also sends positive signals regarding Rock County's overall economic climate."
